LETTER FROM CULPEPER.

[Correspondence Alexandria Cazette] MITCHELLS STATION, July 27 .-There is a negro desperado at large in this neighborhood and a reward of $100 is offered for his apprehension. The reward had no attraction to induce the citizens to leave their work, but when on Saturday afternoon, during the abfamily excepting two young sons and a colored servant boy, this criminal en-tered Mr. Yuger's house, cursing and swearing at the children and demanding something to eat and because he did not get it, or from sheer deviltry, drew a pistoi and sent a ball through the hall floor. Then the whole neighbor-hood was aroused and searching parties scoured the country to arrest him but so far without success.

The venerable and beloved Bishop Whittle delivered an able and comfort ing sermon at Rapidan yesterday morning to a large and appreciative congregation. This will probable be the last of his efforts in this (Slaughter) parish, as he is both feeble and blind and he diocese is a very extensive one.

Politics is positively hot in our county, more so in respect to the legislature than the gubernatorial candidates. It may be remarked in passing that early in the spring our very able and patriotic State chairman Edyson had this county, as we thought, secided in his favor, and we expecte to send a solid delegation for him, but from some unknown cause there has been an almost complete revolution of sentiment in favor of Tyler. Ellyson deserves well at the hands of the democratic party, for he is not only able and efficient as our chairman, but was patriotic enough to eschew his personal preference for the gold standard during the last campaign and work for the success of the Chicago platform. Such devotion to party principles is the only road to success, and Ellyson exemplified it last fall in the face of bitter denunciation on the part of the gold ring.

A GRAVE WELL GUARDED .- Beulah Ryder, a 3-year-old child, died a few days ago at the home of her stepfather at Fremont, Pa., under suspicious cir cumstances. After the interment, Heilman, the stepfather, asked permis sion of the coroner to remove the body, but this request was refused. Fearing FINE GROUND RAW BONE (warranted watch at the grave and stood on guard himself. During the night four men appeared in the cemetery, and when the coroner rose up a fusilade began. The coroner was slightly wounded on the forehead and one of the four men wounded in the leg. On Monday it was learned that the four men whom the coroner supposed had come to steal the child's body were really upon the same mission as himself—to protect the grave. They thought the coroner was a grave robber.
